4th Annual Musical Tribute honors veterans, active servicemen

Saturday's memorial tribute to our veterans was well attended despite the heat and humidity. As always the Bracken County Alumni and Community Band did a tremendous job of entertaining the crowd while honoring our veterans and active servicemen and women with traditional patriotic music. This year's crowd was wowed by the vocal talents of Lisa Leap who sang "Come Home Soon" by SheDaisy, Phyllis Holleran with "Fallen but not Forgotten", and Joyce Haug with a medley of patriotic tunes including the "Star Spangled Banner". She can be seen singing the "Star Spangled Banner" as veterans Deanie Day, left, and Dickie Behymer, right, salute the American flag as members of the band stand and show respect for the singing of our National Anthem.

Fiscal Court donates containment pools to county fire departments

The Bracken County Fiscal Court donated three 150 gallon liquid containment pools at the request of Bracken County Emergency Management. Each volunteer fire department in the county received one. The containment pools will be used to catch fuel spills to prevent soil and waterways from being contaminated by chemical solvents. Generally they will be used under saddle tanks if they get punctured in an accident. The saddle tanks hold about 200 gallons. These were donated as a small way of expressing gratitude to each of the departments for all they do for the county and its citizens.

BCHS Football Field and Track falls prey to vandalism

Sometime after Graduation it seemed like the High School Football Field and Track fell prey to a harmless "end of the school year" prank. But as it was looked into it was apparent that this was much more than just a prank, the teams had been vandalized. Several items had been thrown over the fence surrounding the track and football field. So far 18 hurdles, several chairs, a ladder and a grill off the deck of the football concession stand have been found. Several of the hurdles were broken and the grill was destroyed. Some of the Track Athletes helped in retrieving these items but it's going to take more than manpower to drag the football's training equipment back up over the hill. This isn't the first time that vandals have struck this area.

In the past both the baseball and football concession stands have been broken into and items have been stolen. The food that was stolen is what the Boosters use to help support the teams: Baseball, Football and Track and Field. Measures are being taken to stop these senseless acts. An inventory is being taken to make sure nothing has been stolen and the buildings are being checked for additional damage. The Bracken County Sheriff's Office has been contacted and charges will be pressed against anyone involved.

Two Minutes WITH THE BIBLE by Cornelius R. Stam, Founder Berean Bible Society PO Box 756 Germantown, WI 53022

A FAITHFUL SAYING by Cornelius R. Stam

"This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am chief" (I Tim. 1:15).

Of all Paul's "faithful sayings," this is perhaps the most wonderful, and the one through which most people have found the joy of sins forgiven.

The subject is that "Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners." Why else would Christ have had to leave His glory in heaven if it were not, as the Bible says, to come to earth in human form to represent us in the payment for sin? And, thank God, He paid the full price for the sins of all men, for it was not a mere man who died on Calvary's cross. So complete was His payment that Paul could exclaim: "He came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am chief." Paul, himself, though once Christ's chief enemy on earth, had now been saved by Him and, had come to know the joy of sins forgiven.

The great tragedy is that so many people do not feel their condition to be hopeless apart from Christ. They have not yet seen how far they come short of the glory and holiness of God. They know they are sinners, but they do not yet feel that their condition is so hopeless that they need a Savior. Thus they keep trying, trying, trying -- and failing, failing, failing!

How much wiser we are to confess our sins before God -- to take the place of sinners, so that He can save us. This is the first step to heaven. When we have done this we are in a position to accept God's offer of full pardon and justification through Christ, who died to pay the penalty for our sins.

Since none are perfect and all have sinned, "this is," indeed, "a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners." Why not believe God's Word, accept Christ as your Savior and be saved today?

On this very warm & humid Memorial Day, May 27, we had 65 to SS and 117 to worship service.

Ollie Wood turned 97 today! The Helping Hands ladies group presented him with a gift certificate. We were glad to have Mary Ann Tucker, Rose Johnson, Ollie's granddaughter, Sherry and her husband, Barb and Frank Booth with us.

Congratulations to Amber Adkins & Derrick Saunders. They were married Sat. afternoon with Bro. Jackie officiating.

After the Pledge of Allegiance to the American Flag and to the Christian Flag, Bro. Jackie had the Veterans come up front. There were 10 and each told the branch of service they were in.

Jane Nelson tickled those ivory keys with "God Bless America" and "This Land is Your Land".

John Cooper blessed us with singing "One Day at a Time" and dedicating it to Mildred Douglas. She and Eunice Haygood were visiting with us from Bracken Center.

Bro. Jackie had Lori Williams bring her daughter, Kaylee, up front. She was adorable in her red, white, and blue!

Bro. Jackie's message was "Remembering the Past and 2012". 1st Timothy 3:16. May we thank God for our freedom.

Remember in prayer: 17 yr. old, Austin Tuel - Bro. Jackie had special prayer for him. Austin was in surgery at the time for an aneurysm in his brain. He is the son of Leigh Norris Sassler and Jason Tuel. John Cooper has been in the hospital this past week. Keep Paula Ruf (Viola Snapp's sister-in-law), Robert Mains, Peggy Foley, Ruby Hedges, Gene Foley, Ruby Silvey had test last week, Barbara Jefferson, Albert Blevins (back), Ira Blevins, Laura Gose, Shawna McKenney, Terry Hall (test), Ella Grace Jones (tubes in ears on Friday), Barry Ruf, and Jordon, Sara, and their baby Gideon Tong. Remember all those on the prayer list and always each other. Sympathy goes out to the families of Jerry Cordle, Richard Lewis, Danny Moore, and the family of Frank Booth's uncle.

We had 15 at Bible Study tonight and we were glad to have Frank and Barb Booth back with us. Our study of Romans is very interesting. Refreshments were provided by Ron & Peggy Foley. Yummy!

A special hello from the church mouse to Tina Adkins of Brooksville. May God bless you and your husband and we look forward to seeing you at Chatham one Sunday.

PRESBYTERIAN POTPOURRI by Les Grooms, pastor Augusta Presbyterian

This past Sunday was part of the Memorial Day weekend. I remember as a child that we called this holiday Decoration Day. It was a time when families gathered at the church cemetery for the day. The men brought saws, scythes, and axes and cleared the grave yard. The women fixed food and the children played. There was a dinner on the grounds and a Memorial program in the church after the cemetery had been cleared and the food had been consumed. Things have changed.

Some of our families were absent this Sunday. We had 54 in attendance.

Earl Bush led the worship service. Barbara Nickoson led the singing. Genna Lou Murray did the children's message. Miranda Claypool had children's church and Jill Hargett did the power point.

My message was on Pentecost and the beginning of God's church.

We will be having our annual rummage sale on June 1 & 2. We will be having our bread basket meal on June 13. Our Father's Day Celebration is June 16. C.O.M will be meeting at our church on June 12 and many of our children and adults will be attending Market Place June 19-21.

I got a letter this week confirming that father Ed will be leaving St. Augustine Church at the end of June. He will be missed; we wish him well in his new assignment.

GREETINGS FROM ST. JAMES

by Caroline Jefferson

Fr. Jim Sichko, our mission priest, urged everyone to be an active participant in our personal family's life, church life and community life. He told the story of the mouse who was horrified to see the farmer and his wife set out a mouse trap. The mouse ran to the barn to tell the chicken, the pig and the cow that there was a mouse trap in the house, to which all replied that it was of no concern to them. When the mouse trap went off, the farmer's wife got up to check on it, but in the darkness did not know that it was a poisonous snake caught by the tail which promptly bit her. After returning home from her hospital stay, the farmer killed the chicken to provide some nutritional chicken soup for his ailing wife. Because of the many visitors and caretakers, the farmer butchered the pig to feed those folks. Finally, the wife passed away and the farmer slaughtered the cow to provide for the bereavement dinner. Moral of the story -- we are all connected and no matter how small or insignificant the matter may seem to us, we need to help each other out in all matters, large or small!!

The Brooksville United Methodist Women held our annual Mother's Day brunch on Sat., May 12th at the Parkview Inn in Augusta. We had a turn out of over 40 mothers, daughters, and guests. After enjoying a delicious meal, we played games, and gave out a prize for the craziest hat. Out guest speaker was Barbara Browning and she gave a message about the many hats we as mothers must wear, be it a chef's hat or a nurse's hat for kissing all the boo-boo's away. Mothers are caregivers, nurturers, and the glue that holds families together.

OAKLAND CHRISTIAN by Barbara Browning

We paused to remember our loved ones and the many soldiers who have given their lives for so many. Let's never forget the many sacrifices made for us.

FARMERETTES

The Farmerettes met at 4:30 p.m. in Carol Klaber's home on May 21. Pres. Connie Bowling called the meeting to order. Minutes were read and approved and the treas. report was given. We answered roll call by naming someone we'd like to spend a day with.

Money was collected for the County Homemaker's Annual Meeting June 28 at the Extension Office. Guest speaker is Amelia Brown, organ donor recipient.

Patty Ann Moorhead reported on the State Homemaker's Meeting she and Edith McKenney attended in Lexington last week.

We made plans to attend Kincaid Lake's 30th Anniversary Year play "Fiddler On The Roof" starring Bob Myers on July 11. We will meet at 12:45 p.m. at Carol's home and eat out after we see the play. We talked about going on a trip later in the summer, but no final plans made.

Carol gave the lesson "Art Is All Around You". Making art takes creativity, expression, imagination, talent, a willingness to work. Carol had asked members to bring items they had that they considered "art" to show. We had a very interesting "Show & Tell". Art is what each individual sees. You may not see what your neighbor sees, but your thoughtful observations are both correct.

Carolyn Taylor read a most inspiring piece, "My Mother's Hands" for our devotion.

Carol served a delicious supper of pasta salad, chicken salad on crescent rolls, ham on buns, Bing cherry salad, chips, ice cream, cookies. Others present were Audrey McKinney, Virginia Ann Bowles, Martha Peddicord, Sue Baker.

Letters To The Editor

To Whom it May Concern,

The Bracken Co. 4-H Horse Bowl Team and parents picked up trash on Rt. 165 last Thursday after school. This was the second year in a row that the team picked up this area. I must admit that when I found out what road we were given the first thing I thought was, "Oh no, how can we get out of it!" I am happy to say that the trash on this particular road was not nearly as bad as it was a year ago! Last year we picked up 37 bags of trash; this year we only collected 13 bags of trash. The majority of the trash was beer cans and energy drink bottles (perhaps they would need less energy to throw out trash properly!). When all is said and done, it still seems hard to understand why people throw their trash out on the road instead of taking it home and putting it in a trash can. As already mentioned, we collected 13 large leaf bags of trash in just 3.5 miles (=3.7 bags per mile)! That is Crazy! Everyone who has ever helped pick up trash learns really quickly that it is nasty, smelly work. Such a person would never throw trash out on the road. We really appreciate the drivers who slowed down when passing us on the road! We appreciate your concern for our safety!

Sincerely,
Bracken Co. Horse Bowl Team

TRASH TALK

by: Mr. Recycle Bin & Ms. Pick-Up Litterbug

606-735-9960

Howdy Folks! This is the second time we started this article! We had the first paragraph typed when all of a sudden, the screen went blank and, of course, since we had not 'saved' the document when we first began typing, that original first paragraph was lost! It was really a good paragraph too – just can't remember it now! As you all know by now, when holidays fall on Monday, our article has to be sent to the Bracken County News Office by Friday afternoon, so we haven't really experienced the hot, hazy and humid weather that is being predicted for this weekend, but we certainly hope that you make memories with your family and friends!

Memorial Day was called Decoration Day when we were kids and originally only graves of deceased military men and women were decorated. As the years passed by, the holiday grew to include the decoration of graves of all deceased family members and friends and Memorial Day became the traditional name for the holiday. Many, if not all, of you have deceased family members who served in the military and to place a flag on the grave of these fallen heroes gives honor to the service that these devoted and patriotic men and women gave to their country. It is also proper to fly the American flag at half staff until noon on Memorial Day to honor the memory of those who served their country in time of war and peace. And as we stated, Memorial Day is also a day to visit and to place flowers on the graves of all family members as we recall the joy, love and wisdom that these loved ones passed on to us! May God bless this country by providing men and women who will lead us in times of war and peace as those leaders did whom we honor on this Memorial Day 2012!

Folks have all different ways of spending the three-day holiday weekend and a lot of times, catching up on chores is one of those things. If you happen to be changing the oil in your vehicle this weekend, we have some places in Maysville that will accept that used motor oil. Recently we had a couple of calls regarding the proper disposal of used motor oil so we did a little research. O'Reilly Auto Parts will accept up to a five gallon container of used oil and you will need to fill out a log sheet for the disposal and once they empty the container, you can take it back home to refill. Wal-Mart also accepts used oil and you need to fill out a log sheet. The following companies, along with Wal-Mart did not have a limit on the amount of oil that could be disposed; you do not need to call ahead and of course, only during normal business hours. Because it is illegal to dump used motor oil, we urge you to use O'Reilly's, Wal-Mart, Auto-Zone, Tractor Supply and Advance Auto Parts to legally dispose of used motor oil which should be as clean of debris and water free as possible.

Many of you will have travelled this holiday weekend and according to the EPA, for every 5 mph you drive over 60, you pay an additional 31 cents a gallon for fuel because fuel efficiency decreases rapidly at speeds above 60 mph! Something else to think about on your daily commute along with other means to RECYCLE, REUSE and REDUCE to keep God's earth clean, green and beautiful! Be seen' you – Bin & Bug.

ALL ABOUT DISABILITY

by Amy Pribble
Social Security District Manager, Maysville

Disability is something most people do not like to think about. But if you're not able to work because you have a medical condition that is expected to last at least one year or result in death, you may be able to get Social Security disability benefits. Here's what you need to know.

You should apply for disability benefits as soon as you become disabled. It can take months to obtain all your medical records and process an application for disability benefits (three to five months, on average).

Generally, the information we need includes:

- Your Social Security number;
- Your birth or baptismal certificate;
- Names, addresses, and phone numbers of the doctors, caseworkers, hospitals, and clinics that took care of you, and dates of your visits;
- Names and dosage of all the medicine you take;
- Medical records from your doctors, therapists, hospitals, clinics, and caseworkers that you already have in your possession;
- Laboratory and test results;

• A summary of where you worked and the kind of work you did; and

• A copy of your most recent W-2 Form (Wage and Tax Statement) or, if you are self-employed, your Federal tax return for the past year.

IMPORTANT--Do not delay filing for disability benefits if you don't have all the above information in your possession. Social Security will assist you in getting the necessary documents, including obtaining your medical records.

The fastest and most convenient way to apply for disability is online at www.socialsecurity.gov/applyfordisability. You can save your application as you go, so you can take a break at any time.

If you prefer, you may call our toll-free number, 1-800-772-1213, to make an appointment to apply at your local Social Security office or to set up an appointment for someone to take your application over the phone.

If you are approved for disability benefits, that doesn't mean you'll never return to work. Social Security has special rules called "work incentives" that allow you to test your ability to work.

Learn more about disability benefits and take advantage of the helpful Disability Starter Kit at www.socialsecurity.gov/disability.

Future Teachers of America

On Monday, May 21st, students in Mrs. Hay’s second grade class got to be teacher for a day. They were supposed to bring something to teach other students how to do. Boy, did they come prepared with props and everything. The students learned how to do many things such as how to make a permanent art drawing with chalk and hairspray to planting things in a tray to grow in a greenhouse just to name a few. What great future teachers we have in the making. “ I was so proud of them and their public speaking ability” quoted Mrs. Hay.

The graduation event was attended by her family, including husband, Bob Hudson (Richmond, KY), and children, Leighton (22 years) a senior at Eastern Kentucky University, Nathan (20 years) a junior at the University of Kentucky, and Jeremiah (17 years) a junior at Madison Central High School; father, Gary Hicks, Sr. and wife, Janice (Augusta, KY); sisters Emily Hicks (Dayton, OH) and Amy Tate (Lexington, KY); brother Gary Hicks, Jr. and wife, Debra (Augusta, KY); and aunt and uncle, Sue and Don Whitaker (Muncie, IN).

While a student at UNC Charlotte, Melissa worked as a Graduate Research Associate on several federally funded grant projects and as an adjunct professor for the university. Her research interests include general curriculum access, alternate assessment, and transition for students with moderate and severe intellectual disability. In 2011, Melissa was selected the Doctoral Snyder Fellow in Special Education. In 2012, she was awarded the Council for Exceptional Children’s Division of Research Student Research Award in the area of Single-Subject Methodologies and selected to participate in the 2012 cohort of doctoral student scholars.

Dr. Hudson will begin a position as a Senior Research Specialist with the American Institutes for Research in Washington, DC, in July. Prior to beginning her doctoral work, Melissa worked as a classroom special education teacher for students with moderate and severe disabilities in the Madison County School System in Richmond, KY for 10 years.

National Cancer Survivors Day is Sunday, June 3, 2012

On Sunday, June 3, the American Cancer Society will join millions of Americans in honoring cancer survivors as part of the 25th annual National Cancer Survivors Day, organized by the National Cancer Survivors Day Foundation. There are more than 11 million cancer survivors living in the United States, and it is estimated that by 2020 there will be some 20 million people living with a history of cancer.

“We honor the millions of cancer survivors across the country who will celebrate another birthday this year,” said Courtnie McKinney, ACS Community Rep. “We at the American Cancer Society continue to honor the longstanding promise of fighting for even more birthdays.”

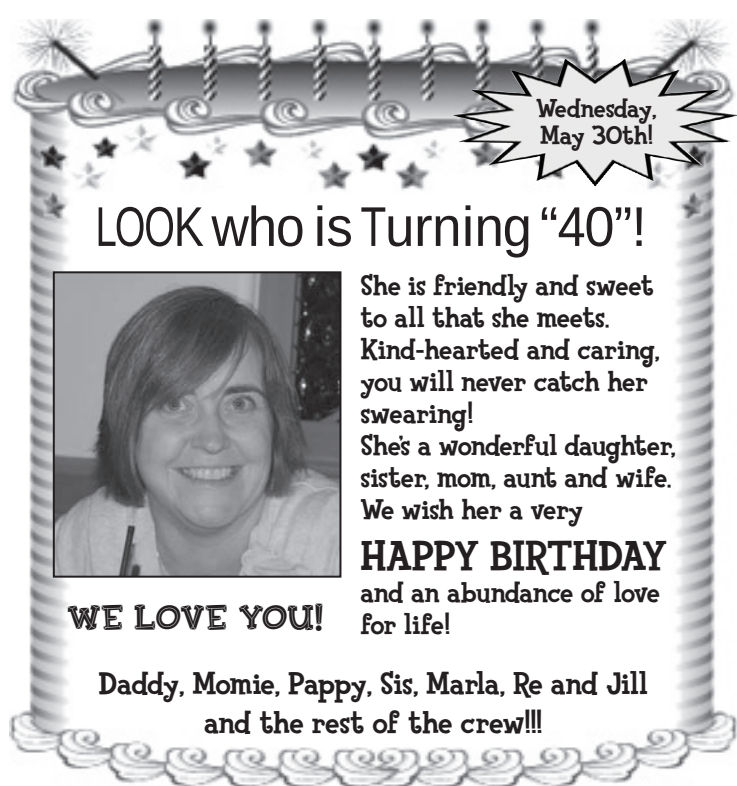

The Society offers many programs that meet the immediate challenges most cancer patients face including Road to Recovery, which provides transportation to and from treatment; Reach to Recovery, which pairs newly diagnosed breast cancer patients with trained survivors who help them cope; and Look Good...Feel Better, which teaches female cancer patients beauty tips to manage the cosmetic side-effects of some treatments. Anyone can access these programs and services by calling 1-800-227-2345 or logging on to cancer.org.

By calling 1-800-ACS-2345 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year, or logging on to www.cancer.org, patients and their caregivers can find: detailed cancer information that helps patients understand their disease and make critical decisions about their treatment; community programs and other resources that help patients and caregivers cope with the physical, social, emotional and financial toll that cancer can take on their lives; and opportunities to connect with other patients and caregivers who have “been there” and can offer moral support.

For online support and information, the Society provides I Can Cope, a self-paced, online educational class for patients and families at cancer.org/online classes, and Cancer Survivors Network, an online peer support community of survivors and caregivers, at csn.cancer.org.

The American Cancer Society saves lives and creates more birthdays by helping people stay well, by helping people get well, by finding cures and by fighting back. For more information, contact the American Cancer Society at 1-800-227-2345 or visit us at cancer.org.

Mental Health, Substance Use Conditions common, but treatable; Individuals can live productive lives

This May is Mental Health Awareness Month, Comprehend is calling on the community to help the 1 in 4 American adults who live with a diagnosable, treatable mental health condition and understand how important mental health is to overall health.

“We want people to know that while mental health and substance use conditions are common, they are extremely treatable and individuals go on to recover and lead full and productive lives,” said Dr. Pamela Vaught, CEO of Comprehend, Inc.

Dr. Vaught said too many people who are living with a mental health condition never seek or receive help due to stigma, lack of information, cost, or lack of health care insurance coverage – as high as 50 percent.

“We want to change the equation and help our families, friends and co-workers who may be reluctant to ask for help or don’t know where to find it.”

Comprehend offers a full range of mental health services including treatment for depression, anxiety, post-traumatic stress, divorce and family counseling, substance abuse, and domestic violence abuse.

“We recognize how essential mental health is to our overall health and well-being,” Dr. Vaught said. “And we know how events and life changes can affect us. It could be a veteran struggling with the invisible wounds of war or someone coping with the stress of caregiving or divorce or losing a loved one. Sometimes, people are dealing with depression associated with a chronic disease such as diabetes, cancer or hypertension. And traumatic events like the tornado disaster in Morgan County can take a huge toll on mental health.”

Dr. Vaught said there are tested resources available that can help every person face difficult times and challenges and improve their resiliency.

“We have an incredible amount of knowledge about how to identify and even prevent mental health conditions,” she said. “It’s important that we spread the word about it.”

Mental Health Month was created more than 50 years ago by Comprehend’s national organization, Mental Health America, to raise awareness about mental health conditions and the importance of mental wellness for all.

Celebrating 45 years of service, Comprehend offers you a staff of fully licensed, compassionate professionals that provide quality behavioral health care. Comprehend’s mission is to enhance the well-being of individuals, families and communities by advocating for and providing behavioral healthcare services in a welcoming and caring environment.

Travel safe and smart this summer

Submitted by Shannon Smith, CES for Family and Consumer Agent

Summer is upon us, and for many, the season means at least one family vacation or weekend getaway. According to a 2011 TripAdvisor survey, 90 percent of Americans were planning to take two or more leisure trips within the next year and 24 percent were planning five or more trips. Of those surveyed, 79 percent said they plan to spend at least $3,000 on these vacations. As you start planning your next vacation, you can take precautions to keep yourself, your family and your finances safe when you travel.

Whether you plan your own trip or use a travel agent, you should watch out for travel fraud. Ask friends and family for referrals when looking for a reputable travel agent. When working with an agent, always ask about the items that are not included in the travel package so you can plan for those extra expenses. Remember that companies or individuals that cold-contact you are often scam artists. If it sounds too good to be true, it probably is. Using your credit card to book a trip or pay for a travel package can allow you to dispute any scams.

Many travel agents and certain websites may suggest that you buy travel insurance. Travel insurance is not a requirement, but can protect you in the event that you need to cancel your trip or have any unforeseen expenses, such as medical problems or emergency evacuations, while vacationing. In most cases, the more risks that are covered in a policy, the more expensive it is. Take time to review your current situation and get several quotes on prices and policies to determine whether the coverage offered outweighs its cost.

When packing for a trip, remember certain necessities as airline tickets or confirmation, passports, driver’s licenses, hotel reservations and any prescription medications. Make sure these items are in a place where you can easily locate them such as an airplane carry-on bag or in a designated spot in a car.

Do your research to find a reputable hotel in a safe area that will best suit your needs. Upon arrival, secure any valuable belongings in the hotel’s safe, if one is available. Unfortunately thefts do occur in the lodging industry, and most hotels will only accept responsibility for items placed in their safe. You can minimize your risk of being a victim of theft while you’re away from your hotel room by leaving the television on at a level that can be heard from outside the room and placing a privacy sign on the door to give potential thieves the idea that someone is in the room. Do not put out a sign asking for maid service as that’s often a sign of an unoccupied room.

Gaile Ferguson honored at HMH Auxiliary Luncheon

The HMH Auxiliary held its annual volunteer luncheon on Wednesday, April 18. The luncheon had 25 members in attendance and featured guest speakers UK HealthCare Stroke Program Coordinator Lisa Bellamy and HMH Emergency Department Manager Karen Mayer. Topics were stroke awareness and the UK and HMH stroke care affiliation.

The installation of officers was also included in the luncheon. The HMH Auxiliary officers are: President Theresa Philpott; Vice-President Bettye Marshall; Secretary Janice Doan; Corresponding Secretary Nancy May; Treasurer Carolyn Miles; Ways and Means Chairs Christy Hall; Public Relations Chair Bonnie Teater; Gift Shop Buyer Judy Letcher; Gift Shop Coordinator Mary Jane Bell; and Historian Vivian Smith.

Also, included in the spring luncheon was the honoring of outgoing President Gaile Ferguson. Gaile joined the HMH Auxiliary in 1996 after moving to Cynthiana.

"Hazel Lair, who was our realtor, encouraged me to volunteer in the HMH Gift Shop and serve as the Gift Shop buyer," says Gaile. Mrs. Lair was an HMH Board member and HMH Auxiliary President during this time. She served as the buyer for 16 years.

Eight years ago, Gaile became president of the organization. During her time, the Auxiliary raised funds to purchase a hospital bed, equipment for the Wellness Center and items for newborns; however, the main goal was to always be able to assist in funding for the HMH Scholarship Fund.

Gaile and her husband, Mark, will be moving this spring to Fishers, Indiana. Mark will retire as Molding Technology Manager from Bullard. Gaile plans to spend time with her daughter and son and their families, which include four grandchildren. In addition, she plans to continue gardening at her new home.

"I've enjoyed working with the members of the HMH Auxiliary," says Gaile. "Everyone who belongs to the group works together toward our common goal of raising funds for HMH."

HMH appreciates Gaile for her 16 years of volunteer service to the facility and community.

Free fishing weekend provides opportunities for youngsters and families June 2-3

Kentucky's Free Fishing Weekend, which began more than 30 years ago, offers youngsters and families an opportunity to try fishing at no cost on June 2-3.

All anglers, both youngsters and adults, may fish without a license those two days. However, all anglers must still observe minimum size limits and creel limits.

At several locations around the state, Kentucky Fish and Wildlife has partnered with sportsmen's clubs, parks departments or other government agencies to provide a variety of fishing events and activities for new anglers.

"Beginners can try out fishing and get some hands-on instruction at the free fishing events that weekend," said Marc Johnson, aquatic education administrator for the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. "Many of the events on department-owned waters will be hosted by fisheries and law enforcement division employees."

Most Kentucky State Resort Parks have fishing poles and tackle that is free for guests to use.

The larger of the two fishing lakes at the campus of Kentucky Fish and Wildlife headquarters in Frankfort will receive a special stocking of fish for this event. The department's upper lake will receive up to 1,200 channel catfish weighing 1 to 10 pounds, and approximately 20 largemouth bass weighing between 2 to 4 pounds.

Kentucky Fish and Wildlife headquarters is located off U.S.60, approximately 1 mile west of Frankfort.

The large upper lake will be closed to all fishing Friday, June 1. However, the lake will reopen to youth anglers under the age of 16 from 5 to 8 p.m. that day. The lake will open to youth anglers only from 7 to 11 a.m. Saturday, June 2. After 11 a.m., the lake will be open to all anglers. The smaller fishing lake, located closest to U.S. 60, will remain open to all anglers during daylight hours.

Kentucky Fish and Wildlife employees will be roaming the banks to provide advice and assistance to anglers. "We will have limited fishing equipment to loan on Saturday morning," added Johnson. "We suggest anglers bring rods and reels, if they have them. Anglers should also bring bait. We recommend redworms and wax worms."

Anglers squeamish about baiting hooks with worms can instead use cheese, corn, small pieces of hot dogs and balls of compressed bread to catch catfish.

Several organizations around the state are sponsoring fishing events this weekend. They include (local times listed):

* Barren County: Barren River State Resort Park, June 2, youth fishing derby for kids ages 15 and under, beginning at 9 a.m. Fishing poles and bait provided.

* Henderson County: Audubon State Park, June 3, fly tying and casting instruction by the Ohio Valley Fly Rod Fishing Club, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

* Kenton County: Middleton-Mills Park, Shelter house 1, June 2, fishing event, 9 a.m. to noon.

Burning Trash in Your Campfire

Whether you're packing up your tent and sleeping bags for a weekend camping trip or simply planning an evening around a backyard fire pit, remember that garbage should never be burned in a campfire or fire pit. Burning trash, even in small quantities, can release toxic pollutants, many of which have been linked to increased risk of cancer and other dangerous health problems. These pollutants can be inhaled and even ingested when contaminants fall and settle on food or drinks. Burning trash is not only harmful to our health and our environment's health, but it is also illegal. Kentucky has an open burning regulation that prohibits burning plastics, Styrofoam, fabric, metal, and slick-coated paper products.

Before you light your next campfire, remember to only burn seasoned, dry wood. Never burn plywood or wood that has been treated, stained, or painted. Dispose of all trash properly, and recycle whenever possible.

For more information on opening burning call 888-BURN-LAW or contact your local Solid Waste Coordinator.

Memorial Day brought Anthony to mind, Man with a Plan

Memorial Day.

Tribute then, albeit belated, to veterans who served or are serving our country.

A special salute today to heroes. For me, two of them.

- Green County native Sergeant Dakota Meyer, America’s newest Congressional Medal of Honor winner. What valor. (See 60 Minutes, May 27).

- And, a man you’ve never heard of, but Anthony’s first name will do. He remains for me a symbol – model for crisp sense of duty, clarity of purpose, unflappable confidence.

As it did for you, Memorial Day brought to mind moments in the military experience that left an eternal tattoo on us. Ups and downs, day upon day, I enjoyed serving our country. The com rader and team-ness.

Anthony was proud of his Airman First Class (3) stripes. Had to send a photo home immediately.

We were good pals for what seems five minutes, all those years ago. Here was an arrow straight 20-year-old from a tough neighborhood in Phoenix who skipped the: “this your first pair-o-shoes, Kentucky?” question.

Copper-skinned Anthony was ethnic-sensitive and too pleasant and gracious for stupidity. He had questions about Daniel Boone, Abe Lincoln and the Kentucky Derby.

Young man with coal black hair, teeth so white, smile so perfect, you wanted to punch him. He had a soft Mexican turn in his English and killer personality. Here was a fellow comfortable in the moment and in his skin too. Confident in where he was going. He loved his dress blue uniform and spit shined his shoes. When he polished, Anthony would hum the appropriate Elvis Presley classic.

While others hated it, he loved marching in base parades, clopping along in harmony aaaa UP-2-3-4. And, he tried to locate himself as near the American flag as we marched as possible.

“I am a career man, man,” he would say with pause for effect on the second ‘man.’ “Good life, man. Good life. Career. You should be one too and re-up, Roberto,” he would say.

“Go now, man, and re-enlist We will get promoted to staff (Sergeant) together. If you get out, man, it is beeg mistake.”

Laughter.

Anthony had a plan. I had was a hunch. Re-up wasn’t for me.

We reflect more as we grow older, don’t we? I can’t recount a baseball ball score from yesterday, but a decades old experience can be clear as a drink of water.

Finally, when winter turned to spring back there and time for rotation back to USA was short, Anthony did his re-enlist routine less often. We had come to this Life junction from the same direction, but were destined for different destinations for the next stops. One cold and dreary April morning we saluted one another, Anthony and me, shook hands and said good-bye there at Mildenhall Air Base near London for a flight home. Anthony would be leaving a week later, he said.

“Gonna spend a few days in Phoenix with Mom and the kids, then go on to California. Get ready for my new assignment and a promotion,” he said. “I’m goin’ to Vet Nim.”

Was April, 1965. He hadn’t learned yet how to pronounce Vietnam.

Two months later a telephone call came.

Anthony had gotten his promotion to Staff Sergeant. A week later he was killed by a Viet Cong “freedom fighter.”

From then until now, never met anyone quite like this man.

All the way to now, I wonder where Life would have taken him. He had such plans.

Memorial Day ... a salute for our honored ones.

ONE - AND - DONE , ANOTHER VIEW

Peter Keating writes for ESPN Magazine. He has an idea to “fix the scourge of the one and done rule.” NCAA officials should consider the National Hockey League model.

“Hockey has a universal draft,” Keating points out. “NHL teams can pick anybody from anywhere who’s 18 to 20 and hasn’t already been picked or played in the league. Kids don’t have to declare for the draft as with the NBA. And, a team that drafts him retains his rights whether he stays in college one day or four years.

“Unfortunately, the one-and-done system isn’t just bad for the NCAA,” Keating goes on, “it destroys continuity among top (college) programs. It’s bad for the talent too, producing fewer top players for the NBA.”

From 1995 to 2005, 47 high schoolers entered the draft. Led

BCHS Baseball Team takes 2nd place in 10th Region All “A” Classic

The Bracken County High School baseball team finished second in the 10th Region All “A” Classic Tournament held in April. The Polar Bears opened tournament play with a 19-2 win over Augusta on April 5 to advance to the semifinals. Bracken County shut out Paris 10-0 in five innings to advance to the championship game where the Bears fell 8-3 to defending champ Bishop Brossart. The semifinals and championship were held April 14 at Nicholas County. Bracken County senior Josh Cummins and junior Eli Florer were selected to the all-tournament team for their efforts during the tournament. Members of the team include: Josh Cummins, Jarrett Moore and Zach Williams, Travis “Biscuit” Bishop, Eyan Duncan, Phillip Jefferson, Eli Florer, Justin Hill, Jacob Houston, Ryan May, Connor Rigg, David Colemire, Logan Houston, Chad Stephenson, Brett Raymer, Bradley Blevins and Cooper Enges. The team is coached by head coach Scooter Charles and assistant coaches Coy Cummins and Stacey Florer.

by Kobe Bryant, six became superstars. Since 2006 three of 49 became franchise players – Kevin Durant, Kevin Love and Derrick Rose. Meanwhile, nine one-and-doners were not drafted at all, three more are not even in the D-League.

Conclusion? Abolish the 19-year-old rule, stop the one year in college pretense. Both would serve professional basketball and the college game.

‘WORTH REPEATING’ NUGGETS

- Dr. Tubby Smith. Minnesota’s coach asks his recruits: “What have you done besides play basketball to make your school better, make your family better, make your community better?”

- Joker Phillips. Two seasons ago Kentucky’s coach was responding to red-shirt freshman’s complaint about lack of playing time. “It definitely helps when you keep your mouth shut and do your job,” Phillips explained. The athlete finally earned his playing time and was on schedule to being an All-SEC candidate. Too bad for Ridge Wilson. He was dismissed from the team this year after being arrested for drug possession.

- Bob Knight. Three seasons ago Knight put the light of day on the cheapness of John Calipari’s one-and-done approach to college basketball.

“An incoming freshman has to pass six hours in the first semester – six hours with a D,” Knight said. “Second semester a player technically need not attend class at all to keep eligible since by end of semester and grade accountability, the NCAA Tournament is finished and one-and-done candidates are preparing to announce they will stand for June’s NBA Draft.

“That’s not what college basketball should be about,” he went on. “Not only to what would be best for the game, but what would be best for the kids (who) play the game.”

- Bob Sheppard, late public address announcer at Yankee Stadium: “An announcer should be clear, concise and correct. He should not be colorful, cute or comic.”

- Rajon Rondo. NBA brass ruled players may not wear head bands upside down. Sports writer Bill Dwyer wrote, “most players had stopped wearing head bands altogether, but (Rajon) Rondo carried on, upside down all the way, with Jerry West facing downward on national TV dozens of times a year as the Celtics played in two NBA title series.”

So, the Rondo Rule was put in..

Playing a kid’s game wearing head bands is stupid. Rondo wearing his upside down brought to mind an old John Wayne remark. “Life is hard; it’s harder if you’re stupid.” And so it goes.
